How to make a complaint
We want to give you the best service. Our Consumer Complaints Code of Practice is available at o2.co.uk/how-to-complain and explains how we'll help when things go wrong.

Unresolved complaint?
If you've raised a complaint with O2 and feel that we haven't resolved it to your satisfaction, you can have it independently reviewed by CISAS – Communications & Internet Services Adjudication Scheme. This is a free service accessible to you once you've received either a decision letter from O2 regarding your complaint, or 6 weeks after you've raised it.

Before the CISAS will consider your complaint, you must have raised a complaint with O2 first to give us an opportunity to make things right.

You can contact CISAS via the following:
Website: www.cedr.com/consumer/cisas/overview
Phone: 020 7520 3814 Email: cisas@cedr.com
Post: CISAS 100 St Paul's Churchyard London EC4M 8BU

Jargon buster

Access Charge - Our charge for calling service numbers, with the rest of the call cost going to the service provider.
Adjustments - these are charges applied to your account that are not covered within your tariff, while credits are refunds or cash returns.
Airtime charges outside your plan - these are charges for usage not covered by your inclusive allowances.
Airtime plan - your standard monthly package which includes your line rental and inclusive allowance - charged in advance.
Balance brought forward - this shows you any balance carried over from your last bill.
Chargeable services - a chargeable service is a third-party service cost that is not covered by your monthly allowance. This includes things like premium texts, premium voice, and certain Charge to Mobile charges. We have a single transaction limit and a monthly limit for chargeable services. See more here: www.o2.co.uk/help/account-and-billing/other-numbers-and-charges.
Charges when abroad - any charges incurred outside the UK.
Data - this covers access to the internet through your phone. Data usage is measured in GB/MB/KB. 1 Gigabyte (GB) = 1024 Megabytes (MB). 1 MB = 1024 Kilobytes (KB)
Data rollover - lets you take any of your main data allowance left over from the last month into the next. Data rollover is calculated at the end of each billing month, not calendar month.
EU - European Union.
Inclusive Allowance - this is your allowance of calls, texts and data included within your tariff and from any monthly extras you've added to your account. Some calls are not eligible
Visit o2.co.uk/mobilestariffs/tariffs for more information.
Messages - these could be texts, picture or video messages.
Minutes - these are the calls you make every month.
Monthly extras - these are the added extras which you've chosen to pay for every month on top of your tariff.
Order charges - any accessories or handsets you buy and charge to your account.
Premium and Info Services - premium messages requested and received.
Service charges - if you have more than one product we will summarise your service charges under this heading.
Things you've bought - this shows charges for things you've bought like digital games, ringtones or music that you've downloaded to your phone.
VAT - where appropriate value added tax is charged on products and services and is included in the charges on the bill.
